1.2 New Feature

The following function has been added.

(1) Error message guide

When a common error has occurred, the log shows the URL of the page that tells the details of the error and how to handle it.

1.3 Medialess (Sold without CD-ROM)

Renesas Flash Programmer has become medialess and more eco-friendly. It is no longer sold with a CD-ROM from V3.09.00. Note that the different part number is assigned to the new version due to the changes in the product configuration.

The software and documents previously included in the CD-ROM are available to download on the website of Renesas Flash Programmer. The paper-based instruction "Preparation before Use" shows how to download.

The license files, previously included in the CD-ROM as well, are no longer provided. The License Registration is removed from Renesas Flash Programmer.

Though the license files are no longer provided from V3.09.00, the users are eligible to receive the same technical support by showing the PID in the product license certificate.

(1) Product Configuration

Table 1 shows the differences in the product configuration between V3.08.xx and V3.09.00.
